

Neisha Shanko and Harry Marrant

The littlest rider for the weekend, but she shows great style
– Felicity Atkinson and Ribbons

Katie Clark had a very successful weekend. Pictured here on Philidelphia - they were second in the Anthony Thomas Signature Range Final.

Kym Afford and Alistar Mackey's Kaluna Charlie.

Joel Daniel worked hard putting up the rails all weekend.

From the east and the west – Paige Jardine from Mildura and Sarah Hurrell from Lock – both finalists in the Mitavite Series.

Reece Boylan and his very nice Robbies Guns

Sarah Hurrell and Copper Print placed in the Mitavite Final

Second in the Mitavite Final – Alicia Scatini and the old campaigner Skansen Cadiz

Winners again in 2009 Kaite Clark and the little champion Katelle Domino. Pictured here with Mitavite Chief Executive Colin Price.

A happy team at the end of a long season!

Paige Jardine and the terrific Terrific

Nicole Bruggeman and her new ride Croftlea Merridance

Making her trip from WA worthwhile Evie Buller and Charlie Girl won the Anthony Thomas Signature Range Young Riders Final

Fiona Graham and her lovely thoroughbred Envy Me

The very flashy Anton and Jeff Bloomfield placed in the Futurity

Kate Schlichting and Oliver's Puzzle had placings in the D Grade Champ and the Futurity.

Jono Farrington and APH Lucas

Ellie Clark and MEC Harvey placed in the Mitavite Final

Winners of the 130cm class on Saturday – Matt Afford and Kaluna Thunderstruck.

Richard Bruggeman susses out Matt's plan for the Championship class on Sunday. After forking over well over $700 for Thunderstruck in the Calcutta Matt must have talked up his odds. Unfortunately for Richard Thunderstruck had uncharacteristic rails in the first round!

Anthony Thomas managed to keep Kinnordy Goerlitz off all of the rails but going out first in the Championship jump-off meant he had to be the pace setter. Everyone thought Anthony went quick but he ended up third as all of the riders had a fair dinkum crack!

The grand old campaigner – Faultline and Randal Jolley. They put up a brave fight in the jumpoff only to be pipped at the post and had to settle for second.

Adam Metcalf and Spiderbait had good return to the bigger classes after a long break.

Showing great style as usual, Mick McClean and Princely Guy.

The fabulous Finke and Robbie Atkinson.

After one of the most exciting jump-off's in recent times, the last combination out, Michelle Clark and Belcam Gambler rounded them all up to claim the winner cheque.
